

McCall Gardens Community Participation Program

This new venture for McCall Gardens Builds on over 50 years of community service for people and their families.

As a family orientated business we are committed to making the young person and their family the centre of all our planning.

We can help by supporting your family member to:

- Extend their learning and acquire personal skills and competencies to increase their independence
- Be included in the activities and life of your local community
- Make friends and build other life skills to better support them in their adult life

Our service recognises and respects the natural authority of families in the life of the young person; this means including the family and the young person in all the choices before the decision making.
